Good climate

Trachtenvogl is the place where you can forget the world for a few hours - in the meantime we'll be acting for the sake of environment for you. As a company that serves hundreds of guests every day, we are committed to being as responsible as possible to our environment - and the products it serves us every day. And we are on the right path: for instance, in the future you will receive your coffee to-go exclusively in the chic Recup cup - we will not buy disposable cups anymore. The Recup system, which has now been joined by more than 2600 businesses, enables us and you to conserve valuable resources - because environmental awareness starts with the purchase. We choose 10 liter cartonboard packaging instead of Tetra-pack for our milk, our fruit and vegetables is delivered in open crates and we count on large piece goods in order to reduce garbage to a minimum amount. The brown napkins you find in your cutlery mug are recycled and produced CO<sup>2</sup> neutrally. We separate residual waste, organic, cardboard and glass. You too?

We are proud to have optimized our production chain quite ingeniously. „A good kitchen does not make any losses.“ that's how we say. Most of the products left over at the end of the day are processed further here. Unsold Pretzels wander into our coveted spinach-pretzel dumplings, croissants get into the bottoms of our homemade cakes. Our kitchen team takes care that no food goes into trash for no reason. Our world provides us with everything, so we need to protect its natural cycles. We at Trachtenvogl respect the rules of nature and buy as regional and seasonal as possible. Our fresh meat comes from certified organic butchers. Our coffee beans come to Germany via direct trading and our roaster Hardy Wild supports social projects in the growing countries. The beans come to us in re-usable sacks. We have coffee and music, and the stove burns until late at night. All this consumes a lot of energy. That's why we get our electricity ecologically from Stadtwerke München - and of course our company vehicle with e-drive also uses green electricity. We have digitized our bookkeeping and now save a lot of paper.. If you have any ideas on how we can be even more environmentally friendly in the future, please do not hesitate to contact us. Each one of us can get smarter. And act accordingly. Let's tackle it together.

Your Trachtenvogl team.
